Local Motivational Speaker Speaks in Oklahoma, NJ & Local Schools

Image Consultant, Motivational Speaker, & Columnist S. Renee Speaks to Freshman Classes

Dover, DE—Image Consultant, Motivational Speaker, Columnist, & Author S. Renee Smith recently traveled to Oklahoma to present a two-day, four-hour presentation called “Can You Be Trusted With Your Life?” Speaking to over 350 freshmen at Langston University, she challenged them to think about the world’s problems and to ask themselves, “What problem do I want to solve?” Smith said, “The earth is sick. We need experts to teach us how to preserve our natural resources.” She continued by giving statistics about AIDS, cancer, the number of parents that enter the US penal system, teenage alcoholics, and plastic surgery among teenagers and young adults. She then helped the collegians understand and develop their self and public image, decision-making skills, and personal brand.

Smith also presented a two-hour presentation called “Your Life is Your Legacy” to nearly 250 freshmen at Delaware State University. Using the death of her grandmother as the foundation of building her presentation, Smith said, “My grandmother died in three month after being diagnosed with cancer; however, she lived 76 years. People will remember how you live and what contributions you make to society.” She stressed personal accountability, creating habits of success, overcoming peer pressure, and believing in yourself and your dreams.

In her speech at Sussex Technical High School in Georgetown, DE and at the Miss Proverbs Pageant in Paterson, New Jersey, Smith shared the importance of building character and being a leader. She also recently appeared on the Dan Gaffney (DE) and American Dream (NJ) radio shows. Smith resides in Dover and can be reached at www.srenee.com or by calling (302)736-5131.
